

Shawn Valle

Manager of Mobile Products

Shawn Valle is the Manager of Mobile Products at Veracode. Before joining Veracode in 2013, Shawn served as Mobile Cyber Security Group Leader at The MITRE Corporation, leading research, security assessments, training, and systems security engineering for mobile computing, enterprise network security, and defense systems.

His areas of expertise include mobile computing, cyber security, enterprise software, and identity management systems. He has developed several white papers and training courses in these areas, and frequently speaks at government and public conferences. Shawn earned a bachelor's in management information systems with honors from Northeastern University and holds an active (ISC)² CISSP certification.